1-2. Outline of the American English Seminar / アメリカ語学セミナーの概要

Each seminar has its own unique theme and content. In addition to English language study based on a particular theme, the program includes English practice sessions with local people. Please read these materials for detailed information on the contents of each program.

You will use online tools such as Zoom to complete the program. Zoom and other online tools are used to connect you with schools in the US in real time (synchronous). Depending on local conditions and lesson plans, some classes may be held partially asynchronous.

J.F. Oberlin students and the students from our partner institutions will participate in online classes at an American university's language school and study together for three weeks. Students who successfully complete the program will receive a "Certificate of Completion" at the end of the program.

2-3. English level / 目安となる語学レベルについて

These "Language Scores" are "guidelines" only; you can still participate in the program even if your score is lower than this. If your score is much lower than the guideline, you should consult with the school you are thinking of applying to beforehand. Be aware that you will need to actively seek support from the instructors at each school through your own efforts.

Please be aware that if your English scores are significantly higher than this guideline, you may find the English language portion of the course slower and too easy.

「目安となる語学スコア」はあくまで「目安」であり、目安より低くても参加できます。目安より大幅に低い場合には、申し込もうと考えている研修校に事前に相談するよう to してください。各校スタッフのサポートを積極的に求めたり、自身で努力したりする必要のあることを認識しておいてください。

目安より大幅に高い場合には、英語の授業部分は簡単に感じる可能性があることをご了承のうえお申し込みください。

③ PR

In addition to the information on the flyer, students in our Memphis Music program will:

- Gain exposure to another culture through music
- Gain confidence by expressing opinions in English
- Gain experience in a new online learning environment
- Gain skills by producing digital projects

We think IEI at Memphis is a great choice because:

- Our program has been hosting JFOU students in our ESL/Memphis Music and ESL/Hospitality Business courses every semester since 2012.
- Our teachers are passionate about Memphis Music, history and culture AND helping students improve their English skills
- Our classes are designed to allow students to investigate their interests and present their findings creatively
- Our teachers and staff care about our students, and we welcome our students to come to us with their questions and concerns
- Our city is full of interesting people and history, and we want to share that with our students
- Our university has many students interested in learning Japanese language and culture, and they are excited about making Japanese friends

We also have this short video about how students feel about Memphis and our program: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MSlu5ksmPEc>

1. Benefits

Among the benefits students should expect is that chance to connect with “real” students and members of the campus and Forest Grove community. We intend to give program participants many opportunities to interact with Pacific University students and share in experiences (dining halls, campus clubs, library & study settings) that US students do. Students in Pacific’s department of World Languages will be part of the interactive activities we have planned, and JFOU students will have the chance to ask and answer questions about themselves, campus life, and American culture. We want them to interact with their language teachers AND their Pacific peers!

We will also design a custom curriculum that reflects the students' specific virtual experiences. For example, when we have a virtual tour of an Intel facility, virtual lessons prior to our tour will focus on vocabulary and concepts they'll hear during that tour. Lessons after the tour will ask students to discuss and reflect on what they saw, heard, and learned. This will allow them to build on their observations and virtual conversations to demonstrate their understanding of new concepts and practice specific vocabulary.

Our goal is that students gain genuine insights into how Pacific, the local community, and the Portland metro area are similar to or different from JFOU, their neighborhoods, and their own experiences in Japan. These insights will, we hope, also inspire students to travel or study abroad when it's possible to do so again.

2. The characteristics and strengths of the English Language Institute (ELI). One of the characteristics ELI alumni have noted immediately is the positive relationships students form with their teachers. Our language teachers understand that English language instruction is merely one aspect of an international experience. Negotiating cultural differences and adapting to new expectations or practices is also very important. We use kindness and humor to help put students at ease and to inspire the confidence to ask about things they want to understand more clearly.

Our teachers and staff are accessible to students to mentor and advise them during their entire virtual experience. We plan to set up virtual bulletin boards where students will post and answer questions about each day's lesson. We will also have activities that give students the chance to post audio and video responses to their experiences.

Students who have had study abroad experiences at Pacific are often surprised that their teachers and program administrators are also the people who meet them at the airport, take them shopping, and help them adjust to life in a new country. This characteristic will also help us provide virtual students with accurate insights and the chance to ask questions about the many different aspects of life in the US.

Our teachers and staff are also able to adapt effectively to groups of different language proficiency levels and adjust the custom curriculum to ensure all students are learning. We can quickly incorporate feedback from students or JFOU administrators to allow for the most positive experience possible.

Finally, Atsuko Rothberg, our wonderful International Programs Coordinator, is comfortably Japanese/English bilingual and bicultural. She is a resource for students who need to express ideas or concerns in their first language, and she works very closely with the ELI teachers and staff. Students who have attended in-person study abroad at Pacific have maintained their connections with Atsuko for years after their experience.

3. Videos

The first video highlights how ESL students are all full members of the campus community and shows some of our former students in settings that virtual students will see. That's my voice you hear.

<https://www.pacificu.edu/academics/academic-support/centers-institutes/english-language-institute/future-current-student-information>

The second video shows US students at Pacific. They are talking about “Boxer Spirit,” or the attitudes Pacific University students have about their fellow students and our campus. These are the kinds of students that JFOU will interact with in language partnerships and other activities highlighting the Pacific campus. We plan to have some virtual activities in the University Center, which you can see in the background of this video.
